GLENMOUND BEATS SOME WELL-KNOWN

SPRINTERS. It was an Indian summer afternoon at Elizabeth ooth in warmth and in haziness. The attendance was encouraging, the betting animated, and the sport full of variety and excitement.

In the first race both Little Minch and Cracksman were well backed, but both have degenerated into sad in-and-outers, and although both got a good start, and Cracksman led for five furlongs, both were beate rather easily at the end by the despised outsider mound and the Dwyer filly Meriden. Cracksman is either a horse of very uncertain temper or he is very badly trained, for the inconsistency of his performances is bewildering and provokes a great deal of ugly talk

W. C. Daly is buying troops of horses this year. H bought Glenmound just before the race for $2,500 and two-year-old Woodranee. It is said that Woodranee was estimated at a value of 25 cents in the transaction. ound ran in the colors of J. T. Carmody, who had bought the horse from William Jennings, but had falled to put up the necessary collateral.

Castaway 11, the favorite in the second race, ran so strangely that the judges would have been amply FIFTH RACE-SELLING SWEEPSTAKES. justified in questioning both the trainer and the jockey. But perhaps the horse sulked. Tristan won easily, with Theodosius second. The friends of Tristan's owner thought that Tristan would win if he did not sulk. He was beaten at Linden because he sulked at the soft paces in the track. Taragon ran in this race, but he moved as if stiff and sore and came in a bad last.

Tulia Blackburn seems to become discouraged and gloomy when she is the favorite. Most of the owners and trainers thought she would win the third race, but she came in a poor third, Green Morris's sand-worm Lisimony crawling in first, Robespierre, second choice, coming home second. The betting against Lisimony was 5, 6 and 7 to 1. He is a funny beast. He ought to write jokes for a German

Barrister was the favorite in the so-called match for $1.000, at a mile and a quarter, between Green Morris's heigrmnite, Barrister and J. T. Carmody's helibender Glendale. There is nothing irreverent or onal in styling Barrister a helgramite and Glendale a hellbender. Both creatures are well known to naturalists. Neither of them is pretty and both them are slow. So the reader can see without a As usually happens in such affairs, the non-favorite won. It was no race. It was merely a despicable and degrading farce. Barrister would not run at all and Glendale was far in front of him throughout the journey. The excuse given for Barrister was that he suiked. But why should a respectable race-course permit so sulky and mean-tempered a lizard to be matched against a selling-plater on its grounds? Such affairs bring racing into contempt. chart or a diagram the appose nature of the titles and mean-tempered a litary to be made a seling-plater on its grounds? Such affairs bring racing into contempt.

The favorite, Tipstaff, won the fifth race easily, with a rank outsiler, Felham, in second place, Moser's finish on Stephanie was conspicuous for its weakness and clumsiness.

Oregon was first choice in the betting in the sixth race, and stayed out the mille and a sixteenth well enough to beat the second choice, stockton, in a fighting finish, Bergen on Oregon outriding Haymard, Jr., who was on Stockton.

Gunwad was the best horse at the weights in the last race, but the Dwyer coit by Virgil-hegan won, because the little black baby Watson who was on Gunwad is no more fit to ride than a puling infant in its cradile. He made such a melancholy moss of his finish that the Regan coit just got up and won, with a really good jockey Gunwad could have won by two or three lengths. Why will owners persist in fooling away money in this way? Civil service was the favorite in most of the books, but his big ringbone has grown worse, and he may not win another race this year. He certainly will not win in fast company.

First race at 2 p. m. YALE FOOTBALL MEN PROTESTING!

THEY DECLARE THAT HARVARD AND PRINCE-TON HAVE "PROFESSIONAL" PLAYERS.

New-Haven, Conn., Nov. 1 (Special).-Yale men are much excited to-night over the fact that Corbin, Beecher and Terry played on the college eleven in the Stevens game at New-York yesterday. By presenting these graduate players Yale practically challenges the other colleges to open combat in the settlement of some matters which have heretofore been discussed privately only, but have, in fact, been of more vital importance than the annual wrangle over the grounds on which the game of Yale with either Princeton or Harvard should be contested. It is probable that the three graduate players of Yale, who are at present in no way connected with the university, appeared in her support for a purpose, that purpose being to bring about a meeting of the Advisory Committee in New-York, which can discuss the make up of the Harvard and Princeton elevens, which are alleged to contain "professional" players.
Yale grumbled to herself last year because she was satisfied that the football teams at Harvard and Princeton were not made of bona-fide college material, but she believed that with her team she could defeat them. The present attitude of Yale was brought about a ago last Tuesday by a New-York newspaper man who called upon Wyllys Terry in New-York regarding the presence of Wagenhurst on the Princeton eleven and Cranston on the Harvard team. The outcome of this meeting is said to have been that Terry was confirmed in the belief that Wagenhurst is a professional athlete. Of Cranston it is said that he was married some time ago, after being dropped from the freshman class at Harvard, and is now keeping a students' boarding-house in Cambridge. Terry at once stated that if these men were to stay on the Princeton and Harvard teams that not only he, but Bull and Corbin, would also play for Yaie.

Captain Gill said today: "Corbin, Terry and Reecher played yesterday, but as to whether they are going to enter college again I have nothing to say. I have no idea as to what will be the result of the meeting next Monday night in New-York. We can probably define our position more clearly later, and until then I would rather say no more." come of this meeting is said to have been that Terry

PRINCETON AND WESLEYAN PLAY TO DAY. A GAME IN THE CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES AT

BERKELEY OVAL. New-Yorkers will have their first chance to see a game of football in the intercollegiate series in the contest this afternoon at Berkeley Oval between the elevens of Princeton and Wesleyan. The kick-off will be at 2:30. Both teams are already in the city prepared for the struggle, and accompanied by a con-siderable number of adherents. While there is searcely much doubt as to the result of the game, it is reasonably sure that the contest will be hot and exciting, affording an excellent exhibition of the good points of the gams. There is considerable interest in college circles as to the amount of the score which Princeton will make against her opponents. On last Saturday Harvard defeated Wesleyan by 64 points to o, and the result of to-day's game will afford some in-dication as to the relative strength of the Harvard elevens, which meet at Camb and Princeton's team will be made un as follows:

Princeton's team will be made un as follows:
Rushers, Donnelly, Cowan, Janeway, Symmes, Riggs,

Wesleyan's team will probably be made up as

Hea'th, Moore, Cleaver; quarterback, Peck, halfbacks, Slayback and Day, or McDonald; fullback, Hall, S. V.

FALL ATHLETIC GAMES AT PRINCETON. Princeton, N. J., Nov. 1 (Special).-The annual fall handicap games were held on the college grounds to-day. The main feature of the games was the 100-yard race between Vredenburgh, Cary and Dohm. Cary has recently entered college and great interest was centred upon him, as he holds the record of the West in the 100-yard dash. He was beaten by Vredenburgh, '92, by one foot in ten seconds, Vredenburgi heating his own record. The showing of the freshman class was the best in the history of the athletic man class was the freshman half-mile race, won by association. The freshman half-mile race, won by Woodbridge, '93, in 2 minutes 9 seconds, is far above the freshman record. The freshmen won three firsts and two seconds. The following were the events: 100-yard dash, Vredenburgh, '92, 10 seconds; putting 16-pound shot, Janeway, '90, 34 feet 11 inches; freshman quarter-mile run, Cary, '93, 5s seconds; running high-jump, Hencken, '93 (3 inches), 5 feet 3 inches; throwing 16-pound hammer, Black, '91 (10 feet), 54 feet 6 inches; half-mile run, Woodbridge, '93 (10 yards), 2 minutes 9 seconds; running broad-jump, Post, '93 (3 feet), 21 feet 6 1-2 inches; freshman mile run, Turner, '93, 5 minutes 41 seconds; freshman mile run, Turner, '93, 5 minutes 41 seconds; 20-yard dash, Dohm, '90, 24 seconds. DIFFICULTY IN OBTAINING THE BOOKS. The subscriptions to the World's Fair guarantee fund of $5,000,000 yesterday aggregated $231,267, and carry the total amount of subscriptions to date beyond the two-million dollar mark. They were as follows: A. M. Palmer

Aggregate to date.... above amounts $75,000 was raised by John Claffin in the wholesale drygoods trade; $18,500 came from the hatters and furriers, and $4,000 from the stationery and toy interests. Other than these there were no contributions as a result of organized or systematic canvassing among the numerous trades and other business interests of the city. An evening paper created a stir by publishing what purported to be a well-founded statement that the Vanderbilts had decided to make their contribution to the fund $750,000 instead of $250,000, as heretofore When Chauncey M. Depew was asked for an authoritative announcement of he said that there was no truth whatever in the pub-There seems now to be no possibility of completing when the books were opened. In fact, at the present rate of progress, it will not be possible to obtain the entire $5,000,000 within a fortnight, or longer. With the exception of a few trades, there appears to be no organized effort to raise subscriptions. In creating the fund, the design was to make it merely representative of the desire of the various business interests of the city that the Fair should be held here, and the slow progress in raising the money is particularly disappointing to many on this account.

Only about one half of the 1,000 subscription books have been distributed by the Finance Committee, and there appears to be considerable difficulty in the D. Babcock and Secretary Wilson are a sub-committee appointed to pass upon all applications for the books although Mr. Wilson is not himself a member of the Finance Committee. When applications are made at the headquarters of the Finance Committee at the Chamber of Commerce, the applicants are told that the books cannot be had until the sub-committee have passed upon their responsibility. When this will b done, the secretary is unable to say, because he does not know when the sub-committee will meet. meantime, the books are not being distributed and to evidently responsible parties is refused the privilege of using them in canvassing for subscriptions.

Rumors of large subscriptions are being circulated every day, but investigation, unfortunately, always results in revealing the lack of foundation for them. On rumor that went the rounds yesterday was to the effect that Jay Gould had subscribed an even million dollars, while another had it that Mr. Gould, Russell Segs and Cyrus W. Field had agreed to subscribe $250,000 each. Much disappointment has been caused by the stand taken by President Roberts, of the Pennslyvania Railroad, who declines to subscribe for his company until it has been determined in which city the Fair shall be held. As his road has interests in Chicago as well as New-York, he thinks it would be unfair to show a prejudice in either direction. It is asserted, however, that as the Fair can be held in but one of the contesting cities, it would be entirely safe for this and similar corporations to subscribe to the fund being raised by each, as was done by the Wagner Palace Car Company, which subscribed $50,000 to the Chicago and a similar amount to the guarantee fund of this city. Some of the apparent apathy in World's Fair affairs may be due to the absorbing interest in the present political campaign, and the fund may take a big spurt after election day.

A meeting of the Stationer's lioand of Trade was held at No. 99 Nassau st yesterday afternoon. Committees were appointed to canvass the various branches of the trade for subscriptions. The leading branches and the chairmen of the various committees are as follows: Lead pencils, E. Faber, news companies, P. Farrelly; paper, F. Squier; publishers, C. W. Dilingham; envelopos, W. G. Bertin; stationery. Mexander Agar; wall paper, Henry Buen; printing ink. J. H. Bonnell; blank books, G. L. Pease; fancy paper, C. F. Zentgraff; pictures and engravings, Abrain Adler; toys. E. I. Horsman; art material, Herman Esser; leather goods, Max Scheuer; playing cards, W. H. Dougherty; bookbinders machanty, F. W. Sheridan; school supplies, E. Steiger; gold pens, John M. Knapp.

E. I. Horsman, representing the toy trade on the General Committee, sent to the Mayor yesterday $537 c3 for the preliminary expense fund. In a letter to the Mayor, Mr. Horsman writes as follows:

"There is a strong feeling in regard to using any portion of Central Park, and it is a great stambling block in the way of obtaining subscriptions. I therefore consider it of the utmost importance that the committee take immediate action and make a positive annoncement whether or not any part of it will be be used." road, who declines to subscribe for his company until it has been determined in which city the Fair shall

TO PROTECT THE SEABOARD.

GENERAL HOWARD CALLING ATTENTION TO A NEW AND POWERFUL EXPLOSIVE.

SUGGESTING REMEDIES FOR DESERTIONS FROM

THE ARMY-VARIOUS RECOMMENDATIONS. Washington, Nov. 1.-The report of General O. O. Howard, commanding the Division of the Atlantic, to the Adjutant-General, for the year ended September 30, 1889, calls attention to the lack of armament of nearly all seacoast stations. "Our needs in this direction," he says, "have been so often and recently reported on by my pre-lecessors that I deem it useless to do more than call attention to the subject again The time has undoubtedly come when some positive action in the matter of permanent defences is de-manded." He calls attention to "Americanite," the invention of a young Russian, formerly botanist of the Point Barrow expedition, which is the safest and best explosive the General knows. It has been adopted by the Standard Oil Company for "shooting" its wells, With such a powerful agent," the General says, problem of coast defence is resolved almost into one of range, and our great seaboard cities can be made comparatively safe without excessive expenditure.

On the subject of desertions General Howard says: It is scarcely possible to so adjust the workings of a military institution, necessarily autocratic, that each and every subordinate shall feel that its ethics and conduct are identical with those that govern in civil life. It is my belief that in the majority of cases the reasons which cause men to desert peraments of the deserters. Were apprehension and punishment made as certain for this offence as for petty crimes in civil life, none but serious reasons would cause men to commit an act the result of which terminates in almost certain penal servitude. As it is, the chances of punishment are altogether too few. I repeat my former recommendation for an increase in the reward offered for the apprehension of deserters, and a charge in the law which will enable at least all civil officers of the Government, states and Territories to arrest and confine this class of offenders. To remove all cause of discon tent, shorten the first term of enlistment to two or three years, and institute some system by which men in emergency may sever their conne with the service without dishonor themselves and with justice to Government. It might be well to improve the ration -increase, or, at least, give it more variety-though l believe, in the main, that our soldiers are well fed, and that no serious discontent arises from insufficiency or poorness of food."

General Howard joins General Crook in recomme ing that the infantry arm of the service be reorganized by giving the regiments three battalions of four com panies each. He recommends also that the rifle for infantry and cavalry be exchanged for magazine gun. The proposed reorganization of the magazine gun. The proposed reorganization of the artillery branch of the Army as a special corps, General Howard says, presents fatal objections. For small-arm practice, General Howard recommends the purchase of a range on Fisher's island. He renews his recommendation that a graduated code of punishments for the guidance of courts-martial be established; that the retired list be enlarged, by reducing the limit of service prerequisite to eligibility from thirty to twenty-five years; that company cooks be employed, and the soldiers' rations improved; that post canteens be exempted from the operation of the revenue laws, so far as payment of a license is concerned, and he makes certain other suggestions.

General Howard reports that the discipline and health of the troops have been maintained during the year, that the general and personal staff have afforded him cheerful and efficient add in the performance of all required duties, and that officers of the line present an excellent record for the year.

COMMISSIONER RAUM'S NEW METHODS. PERSONALLY PASSING UPON EACH PENSION

CASE-THE RERATED EMPLOYES. Washington, Nov. 1 .- General Raum, the Commissioner of Pensions; Colonel Butterfield, Chief of the Board of Re-review in the Pension Office, and Mr. Van Mater, Chief of the Board of Review, now constitute a court the jurisdiction of which is confined exclusively to pension cases. At the sittings of this court, the two associate judges, as they may be termed, bring to Presiding Justice Raum's attention all the more important cases that are passed upon in the Pension Office, and especially those involving the payment of large amounts of money. The two subordinate officers, who have a thorough ance with pension matters, state the facts and the law in thorough acquaintfacts and the law and if General Raum approves of each causions a certificate of pension is granted. It is said that this court does not delay the issuance of pensions, and that, moreover, it gives General Raum, who is made responsible for the conduct of the office, an opportunity to know exactly what is taking place. tofore the Commissioner has practically done no more than sign his name to the certificates laid before him. unless some special circumstance brought the matter

The commission which investigated the cases found, in many instances, that the employes were unquestionably entitled to the increased rate of pension, but that the method by which the reratings were secured was irregular and characterized by undue haste.

As the claims were just, even if rushed through As the claims were just, even if rushed through the office, it is not believed that the pensioned can be called upon to refund the money received. There is still some talk of dismissing several of the rerated employes, because of their haste in pushing their own claims through, but from official sources it is learned that nothing will be determined upon until after General Raum and Secretary Noble have had another conference. It is expected that at this conference the question will also be brought up as to what course shall be pursued in the cases of those employes whose pensions the commission reported were rerated contrary to law. It is said that the Government can compel the return of the money, or cease further payment of pension until full reimbursement is is secured.

OVERRULING A PENSION DECISION

Washington, Nov. 1.-Assistant Secretary Busse, o-day rendered a decision in the case of the welow of James L. Verity, late of Company C. 10th Ohio Cavalry, in which the decision of the Pension Bureau denying the pension is overruled. The husband died December 3, 1882, and was at that time a pensioner, at $8 per month, for chronic diarrhoea. The testimony shows that after the soldier returned from the Army he was subject to diarrhoea, which he contracted in the Aimy, and which gradually became worse and resulted in neuralgia of the bowels. To relieve the constant neuralgic pains, hypodermic injections of morphine were prescribed by his physician. These were continued until he was compelled to take morphine powders inwardly, which he did up to the time was under the influence of morphine, cautioned him to be careful in the use of it. The next day the son was killed by a railway train. The testimony of the father as to the necessary and constant use of narcotics is corroborated by reputable physicians. In his decision Assistant Secretary Bussey says: "It is very evident that this soldier was greatly disabled by chronic diarrhoea from the rate of his discharge. It is evident that this soldier was greatly disabled by chronic diarrhoea from the rate of his discharge. It is was a hopeless case, and was so regarded by his physicians and attendants. Heroic measures were therefore adopted to afford temporary relief. It is true we have little evidence as to the immediate circumstances under which he met his death; but there appears to be no evidence of contributory negligence on his part, and it is much more reasonable to attribute it to dementia, or abnormal condition of his mental faculties, a direct result of the pensioned cause."
The original decision, rejecting the widow's application, on the ground that the death of the soldier was not due to his military service is therefore overruled, and her name is directed to be placed on the pension
rolls at $12 per month, to date from December 3, 1872. true we have little evidence as to the immediate cir-COLORED VOTERS DEMANDING PROTECTION.

Washington, Nov. 1 .- A delegation of colored men representing the recent General Baptist Convention. rith the Rev. William Gray as chairman, called on Attorney-General Miller this afternoon, in regard to outrages alleged to have been perpetrated upon colored nen in the South for attempting to exercise the elective franchise. It was represented that a member of the delegation, who has been subportated as a witness n the approaching trial at Jacksonville of alleged election frauds in Florida, has been threatened with election frauds in Florida, has been threatened with assassination should be return to the State for the purpose of testifying. The Attorney-General said that, while he was not prepared to say precisely what action would be taken in the case in question, he would say that they could rest assured that in any matter in which the Federal authorities had jur sdiction the laws would be enforced, so far as it hay in his power to enforce them, and all officers and witnesses protected.

WEATHER CROP BULLETIN. Washington, Nov. 1.—The following is the weather crop bulletin for October, 1880, issued by the Signal service office:

Temperature—The month of October has been cooler than usual in all agricultural districts east of the Rocky Mountains, except in Dakota. The line of hilling frosts has extended south to the northern portion of the Gulf States and the northern portion of South Carolina and westward as far as Washington Territory. Light frosts occurred as far south as Southern Alabama, Central Georgia and Northern Louisiers.

recipitation—During October there has been less than usual throughout the Southern States and Sew-England. General remarks—The drought condition which ex-isted in the central valleys has been succeeded by timely rains, which have doubtless greatly improved the white set.

TO ASK FOR AN ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF WAR. Washington, Nov. 1.—Secretary Proctor will renew the recommendation of his predecessors, in his forthcoming annual report, that Congress provide for the appointment of an Assistant Secretary of War. The Department is one of the largest of the Government, there being over 1,500 employes in this city, and over 11,000 throughout the country. At present, whenever the Secretary leaves the city, the President designates an Acting Secretary of War, usually either General Schofield or the head of one of the It thus happens, in the latter case, that some of the officers of the Army are required to report to a subordinate, and among them there is a feeling that they would rather have a civilian in the In the Navy the preponderance of feeling is different. The officers of that arm of the service is different. The officers of that arm of the service, it is said, prefer to see the Chief of the Bureau of Navigation, who is only a Commodore or even a Captain, acting as Secretary, in the absence of the regularly appointed head of the Department, to having a civilian in the chair; and therefore oppose the suggestion that Congress provide for the appointment of a permanent Assistant Secretary. It is said that Secretary Tracy, who, when he entered the office last March, was impressed with the necessity of having an Assistant Secretary, will not now make such a recommendation.

BRIEF SESSION OF THE MARINE CONFERENCE. Washington, Nov. 1.—The International Marine Con-lerence assembled at 10 o'clock this morning. Representatives of the Committees on Sounds and Signals, and Systems and Devices, reported that their reports were finished, and were now in the hands of the printer. The Committee on Lights also had finished its work, and the report was in the printer's hands, but will not be ready for presentation to the Conference for several days, Mr. Goodrich, delegate from the United States, then offered sundry mendments to Article 3 of the Rules of the Road. relating to auxiliary side lights. He announced also that the American delegates presented an amendmen to Article 5, relating to vessels not under command, and providing that a steam or sailing ship which, from any accident, is not under command shall at night carry three white lights, instead of red lights, in globular lanterns. Captain Bisbee, delegate from China, offered an amendment to the effect that small boats, in a large concourse of vessels, shall not attempt to cross the bow of the large vessel, but that nothing shall exonerate a larger vessel from not doing nothing shall exonerate a larger vessel from not doing everything in her power to avoid a collision. Frederick Malmberg, delegate from sweden, announced that he would withdraw the two amendments formerly proposed by him to Article 5 and 6. Mr. Goodrich then moved that the Conference adjourn until Monday. He did this because it seemed that, the reports of the several committees not being at hand, the Conference could not accomplish anything.

This motion met with the views of the Conference, and at 10:30 o'clock the Conference adjourned.

THE NEW TELEGRAPH RATES IN FORCE.
Washington, Nov. 1.—The heads of several Departments of the Government service to-day issued orders putting into effect the new telegraph rates for public business as fixed yesterially by Postmaster-General Wanamaker.

THE WEEK'S RECORD OF BUSINESS FAILURES.
The business failures in the last week, as reported by R. G. Dun & Co., of the Mercantile Agency, were 220 in the United States and 32 in Canada, a total of 261 against 225 in the previous week, and 275 in the corresponding week last year. In their weekly review of trade Messrs Dun & Co. say among other things:
Money has been working closer during the last week, failing to 4 per cent, even more being paid in some cases. It does not appear that the change has any other cause than the demand from the interior, which continues later this year than usual, and can account of great business activity is unusually large.
The foreign situation has not essentially changed, the Bank of France lost $580,000. There is searcely any evidence of important movement of the evidence of week, while the Bank of France lost $580,000. There is scarcely any evidence of important movement of securities either way, but the sale of Minneapolis flour mills and Northwestern elevators to an English syndicate for $6,250,000 is a sample of many industrial operations in progress, which in the aggregate bring a vast amount of foreign capital into the country.

The exports for four weeks at New-York have exceeded last year's by 13.6 per cent, but an enormous increase in cotton exports does not there appear; the increase in imports here has been about 8.5 per cent for the SHIPWRECKED SAILORS ON THEIR WAY HERE. Baltimore, Nov. 1 (special), - Captain Nelson Williams and four sailors of the abandoned New-York schooner, Tom Williams, who were rescued by the Navassa brig Alice, arrived here to-day and started for New-York tonight. The men had a terrible experience. Captain Williams says he sailed from Fernandina, Fla., for New-York October 19, with a heavy deels load of New-York October 19, with a neary deep load of lumber. While trying to relieve the straining vessel in a heavy gale a huge ways swept over her and carried off the piles of lumber, together with the cabin and everything movably. John Tobias, the mate, was and everything movably. John Tobias, the mate, was washed overboard and was never seen again. The captain and the others clung to the masts, which along withstood the shock. For four days and nights without food or drink they clung to the slowly sinking vessel, and on October 27 the brig Alice took them off. The men lost everything they had but the tattered garments in which they were rescued.

part of the time yesterday, but the skies were generally clear late in the day. The temperature ranged between 47 and 61 degrees, the average (54) being 6 higher than 47 and di degrees, the average (54) being 6 higher than the mean for corresponding days in the last eighteen years, and 6 higher than on Thursday. In and near this city to-day there will probably bel-silently warmer, fair weather, followed by shouldness or AN INVESTIGATION.

The Subject of the Day that is Causing so much Ex-

The revetation of the terrible mental trouble that is undermining so many men and women has caused, as is deserves to cause, great agitation. The following are what some New-York people say about it:

Mr. Perry, proprietor of Perry's Pharmacy, in the Sua Building, stated that he had noticed the fearful increase of Building, stated that he had noticed the fearful increase of mental and nervous disorders, insunity, and specially of Paresis in the past year, and that many of the discovery. Paine's Celery Compound, had cure cases and given the best satisfaction, and he was know that the people were becoming aroused subject.

know that the people were becoming aroused on the subject.

Dr. J. W. Smail. 122 Parkeave., Corresponding Stream of the New-York County Medical Association, said:

"I have used Paine's Celery Compound with excellent sizecess. In a severe case of nervous prestration, with severe facial neuralitis and insomnia, its effects were those of a nerve tonic and sedative. In a case of chronic alcoholism, following delirium temens, it produced quies, refreshing sleep and an absence of an appetite for alcoholism everyone. In servous dyspepsia, general dublity, neuralization and insomnia, it have found it very beneficial, and consider it a most valuable insequentle agent."

Mr. John Pollock, with Mesers, E. S. Jaffray & Ca., 350 Broadway, who has been troubled with dyspepsia and insomnia, has received great relief from the use of Patne's Celery Compound. He recommends it in glowing terms.

and insomila, has recompound. He recommends it in glowing terms.

Mr. E. G. Mather, 327 East 109th-st., was entirely cured of complicated disorders of the nervous system wholly by the use of Faint's Ceiery Compound. One of his neighbors, siso, who had a child thirteen manths old, who had been alling for a long time, cured the infant entirely by the use of this same great discovery.

Mr. Rosenberg, the well-known artist, whose sindle is on Twenty-second-st., is very enthusiastic about this great Compound, which has done wenders for him. He has been a great sufferer from rhomatism and unable forwalk. To-day he is well and vigorous, wholly through the use of this Compound.

Mr. J. H. Caldwell, of the Dramatic Mirror, said: "I have been a great sufferer from nervous headaches and find nothing equal to Petice's Celery Compound. I believe it will prove invaluable to theatrical people."

Two clear conclusions can be drawn from the above outspoken and strong statements. First, that nervous disorders and mental compilications resulting, if unchecked, in Par est's (consumption of the brain), are marvelled in Par est's consumption of the brain), are marvelled in Parte's Calver of the most scientific men in America, which will certainly prevent and care these terrible disorders if taken promptly and faithfully used. As such is certainly recommends itself to all intelligent readers, and the popularity which it has achieved proves its great value.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKETS.

FEATURES OF NEW-YORK DEALINGS. There was no particular change in the wheat specula-tion yesterday, either as regards the movement of prices or the development of new features. The export demand was larger, and nearly 140,000 bushels were reported as was larger, and nearly 140,000 bushess were reputationed and freight. The option market was about as active as it has been of late; no more; no less. There were about 35 loads delivered on contract, and this fact, coupled with heavier deliveries, offset the builtish inducese of the expert demand. L cember opened at 84½ and May at 90 cents, fell % cent and then railled to 84% and 90% cents refell 4 cent and then railled to 544 and the spectively. The curb prices were heavy at 835 cents for December. The final official quotations showed lesses of 4484 cent, as follows: November 83, December 814, January 854, February 864, May 894 cents.

Thur were heavy deliveries of corn on contract also-about the same quantity as in the wheat market. Spin same quantity as in the wheat market. Span of '4 cent, and 80,000 bushels were taken as the options ended at net lowes of '5si's cent.

THE TRADE IN CHICAGO.

THE TRADE IN CHICAGO.

Chicage, Nov. 1 (Special).—The local wheat crowd as night fest disgranted at the "professionals" at New Yosk, claiming that the latter had invelgled them into buying on false reports. Shortly after the market opened dispatches were received here declaring that Power, Soas & Co., had sold sixteen boatboads of wheat for export to the United Kingdom. The amnoncement at once starfed a good deal of buying. Prices advanced here 's cent fer good deal of buying. Prices advanced here 's cent fer December and 's cent for May. Shortly afterward in claim of Power's Sons was discredited by other house at New-York, and there was at once a stamped to sal by the deluded once here. The advance was entirely less and a further deceller suffered. December wheat whits opened at 80%, and which touched 80%, closed at 80% and which opened at 81% and which sold at 80%, all sold at 80% and a 183°s. The Western news was all beartsh.
